

Konstantinov on the Importance of the Working Class in the Party

When the working class is still outside the leadership of the Marxist party and as a result does not yet know the laws of social development, its struggle is spontaneous, and the results of this struggle are deplorable.

This can be seen in the example of English trade unionism.

Fyodor Konstantinov,
“Historical Materialism”

Original article

2022-09-21

When the working class is still outside the leadership of the Marxist party and as a result does not yet know the laws of social development, its struggle is spontaneous, and the results of this struggle are deplorable. This can be seen in the example of English trade unionism.

more

Fyodor Konstantinov, "Historical Materialism"

Original article