

Lenin on Indifference

Lorem ipsum

Indifference to the struggle does not at all mean standing aloof from the struggle, abstaining from it, or being neutral.

Indifference is tacit support of the strong, of those who rule.

Vladimir Lenin
The Socialist Party and
Non-Party Revolutionism

US.POLITSTURM.COM

Original article

2021-08-17

Indifference to the struggle does not at all mean standing aloof from the struggle, abstaining from it, or being neutral. Indifference is tacit support of the strong, of those who rule.

Vladimir Lenin, "The Socialist Party and Non-Party Revolutionism"

Original article