

Marx on Estrangement from Product of Labor

An immediate consequence of the fact that man is estranged from the product of his labor, from his life activity, from his species-being, is the estrangement of man from man.

Karl Marx,
Philosophical and Economic
Manuscripts of 1844

Original article

2024-04-24

“An immediate consequence of the fact that man is estranged from the product of his labor, from his life activity, from his species-being, is the estrangement of man from man.”

Karl Marx, Philosophical and Economic Manuscripts of 1844

Original article